Joanna M. Topping is a Partner at Abrams Fensterman, LLP. Ms. Topping's practice focuses on civil litigation and counseling in the areas of municipal, education, civil rights, labor and employment law. She also has significant experience handling insurance defense litigation including the areas of employment discrimination, labor and general liability. Ms. Topping has tried numerous cases receiving favorable verdicts in New York state and federal trial courts and regularly represents clients in administrative forums such as the New York State Division of Human Rights and the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission. Ms. Topping also provides services to help clients avoid litigation, including drafting and negotiating employment and separation agreements, drafting employee manuals and conducting internal investigations on behalf of employers.

Drawing on her strong written and oral advocacy skills, Ms. Topping also effectively represents the interests of private and municipal clients in appellate matters. Her appellate experience encompasses many areas including employment, civil rights, products liability, automobile and premises liability and commercial litigation.

Ms. Topping practiced in the areas of plaintiffs' personal injury and criminal defense before joining and becoming a partner in a large national defense firm. Her prior experience brings unique insight to her analysis of the claims she handles in her current practice. She also previously worked as a law clerk in the offices of the Kings County District Attorney, Nassau County District Attorney and United States Attorney for the Eastern District of New York.

Ms. Topping earned her Juris Doctorate from Brooklyn Law School where she served as Articles Editor of the Law Review.

Ms. Topping is admitted to practice in the State of New York.
