Abrams Fensterman, LLP was proud to present in the 2026 EMPRO Lunch & Learn seminar, featuring a well-attended and highly engaging discussion on the complexities of defending Assisted Living and Skilled Nursing Facilities.

The program was led by Co-Chair, Jennifer Higgins and Partner Melissa Goldberg of the firm's Medical Malpractice Defense Division, and brought together healthcare professionals, risk managers, and insurance representatives for a thoughtful exchange on today's evolving risk landscape.

The discussion focused on key challenges facing long-term care providers, including malpractice exposure, regulatory considerations, and effective defense strategies. Attendees gained practical insight into managing risk, responding to claims, and navigating the intersection of clinical care, compliance, and litigation.

Our Medical Malpractice Defense team represents hospitals, nursing homes, assisted living facilities, and healthcare providers across New York in high-stakes litigation and liability matters. The firm is committed to supporting healthcare organizations and insurers with proactive guidance and strategic defense solutions.

We thank EMPRO and all attendees for an engaging and informative program.
