

Abrams Fensterman's Rochester Office Secures Second Circuit Victory for Educator in Title IX Dispute

Abrams Fensterman's Rochester office scored a big win in the Second Circuit this week. Sanders represented a long-time agricultural educator who objected to an investigation conducted by an allegedly biased Title IX coordinator.

"Laws like Title VII and Title IX are supposed to protect all parties involved – including those who believe that they have been wrongly accused. I am very pleased that this Second Circuit decision will this educator get his day in Court." – Karen Sanders

The Second Circuit's reversal underscores the court's recognition of Schiebel's claims and highlights the importance of unbiased and thorough investigative processes in Title IX cases.
